That there is something wrong with a social system which allows the calm enforcement of justice to be miserably neglected, is not to be denied. We have not passed the borderline attitude which palliates or tolerates inhuman conduct. There can be little betterment of the quality of justice as long as the public tolerates land-grabbing, wanton destruction of natural resources, special privileges, and other forms of magnificent crime.

So long as we fail to realize that government and law are for the aggrandizing of the clever and powerful, so long will there be flaws in our social order.

The college Y. M. C. A. is sponsoring a lecture by Kirby Page on January 17. This promises to be one of the most intimidating programs offered under the auspices of the college. According to Mr. Fisk, Page is a "dangerous man." That is, his thoughts are dangerous to an undeveloped mind. In order to gain anything at all from the coming lecture, it will be necessary to think.

Pre-examination gloom has set in. The symptoms have been evident for some few days. Some say the atmosphere is ten percent heavier with sadness than at this time 1927. However, we have no competent statistics. Even a lad of cherubic countenance, who has rippling smiles where most people have wrinkles, seems vaguely preoccupied in dull contemplation of deeper things.

Some serious senator has suggested Will Rogers for president on an All-American ticket. We have a worthy candidate of our own too—we would like to see Paul Whiteman as president.

Imprisoned within the U. S. submarine S-4 one hundred feet below the surface of the water are the bodies of forty men. The crash which caused the accident resulted in the greatest submarine disaster known to this country. For this disaster the navy department has been severely criticized, since a like accident occurred on the S-51 in 1925 and no safety devices or salvage boats have been constructed since that time to deal with future disasters. On top of this, the navy department has come forth with a budget calling for the expenditure of $725,000,000 for over a hundred new vessels. Doubtless education and social reform must still be subverted to war and politics.

Hearst, that devil-eyed progenitor of the yellow journal, is again steeped in scandal. This time he has tried to play a joke on Mexico and some U. S. senators. The trouble with what Hearst does is that no one understands him. At least his attempts to smear some others only resulted in showing his own face in the mud. There are four suits the next congress ought to abolish: Hearst, the common variety of house-fly and chewing tobacco, and wormy apples.

Cartoon Contest Held in College

Prizes to be Given For Best Entry. Contest Closes February 3

A cartoon contest is being conducted during the last of January at Santa Ana junior college, in order to find any hidden genius along that line in preparation for the edition of the Algol.

A prize will be awarded to the winner which will be well worth any student's time. The last cartoon must be in the boxes provided for them in the hall, by February 3, the first Friday in the first week of February.

The cartoons must be nine by twelve inches size, and must be on topics of school life. Topics that have been suggested are "The Disastrous Effects of Final Exams", "The Freshman Dance", "The Basketball Season", "Spring Fever", and "Digger and Better Algols."

Science Class Given Use of Telescope

The science department of the Santa Ana junior college has been greatly honored by Mrs. Clyde Bishop, who has given the Bishop telescope on Lemon Heights to the astronomy classes for use indefinitely.

This telescope, the construction of which was finally completed in 1927 is an eight inch refractor. It is well equipped with an electric driving plot, a sun screen, four different eye pieces, and a dome which is moved by electricity.

Astronomy students of the college are extremely fortunate in having the opportunity to use so fine an astronomical instrument. Doubtless their comprehension of the subject of astronomy will be increased and more greatly appreciated through the kindness of Mrs. Clyde Bishop in granting them the use of the telescope.

Kirby Page Will Speak to Y Groups

Kirby Page, world-known thinker and fellowship worker, will speak to the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. on January 17 in the Hut.

The Y. W. women are to be guests of the Y. M. at a supper which will be held previous to the lecture.

Tuesday night, January 10, the Y. W. C. A. had a discussion group and pot-luck supper. The Rev. Perry F. Shrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, lead the discussion, on the world fellowship movement.

Freshmen Announce Date Of Dance at Meeting

A dance, which is to be given for the sophomores by the freshmen, will be held Friday, January 27. This was decided at the Freshman class meeting, Wednesday, January 4, when committees were appointed and plans started for the event.

Dons Hold Frolic At Mount Baldy

Leaving the college at 9 o'clock

Saturday morning forty Dons journeyed to Baldy for a day of fun and frolic in the snow. This trip will not only be remembered by the fun in the snow but recalled by a moving picture which was taken of the group eating and playing in the snow.

Ice House Canyon was the scene of a good time after lunch. Renting, begging, or borrowing sleds, the braver of the Dons climbed the snow capped peaks and had the thrill of their lives coasting down them.

Sides were formed and a good old-fashioned snow fight was engaged in. For fully a half an hour snow flew fast and furious. Many got their faces washed with snow.

Returning to the camp, the Dons ate again and got warm by the camp fire place before starting home. Most of the group left at 4:00 in order to get back in time for the game that night.

Those chaperoning the Dons were Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Newcomer, Miss Elizabeth Curtis, T. H. Glenn, and Miss Diana Anderson.

First Tryouts Held

A soap box, a few students with books in hands gathered around a wooden frame, others on the side lines acting dramatically, and a general hubbub of noise, marred to the onlookers the first tryouts for parts in "The Taming of the Shrew", Shakesperian play to be given by students of Santa Ana college.

But to some of the participants it meant reading lines in deep, expressive tones, to others, feigning tears and hysteria; while fiery Katherine raged at sweet-voiced Bianos. Over and over the lines were read, each time taken by different people in order to find the person most suited to a certain part.

It cannot be denied that the males of Santa Ana college will have the majority in "The Taming of the

Formal Nominations of Student Officers To Be Heard in Assembly

John Fitz, Lawrence Minge, and J. Eugene Walker Nominated for President. Petitions May Still Be Handed in.

Students Barred From Athletics

Those who have not paid the note on their student body ticket will not be allowed to play on any athletic team, and those on the football team who have not yet paid for their student body ticket will not be awarded letters, according to a decision made at the meeting of the board of control last Monday afternoon.

It was further decided that the office of commissioner of publications would not be divided as previously announced.

The business manager of the Don is advised that he make all collections on advertisements at this time, as the Don is in debt.

Club Formed For Outside Students

A new club formed in the interests of Don students whose homes are outside of Santa Ana, held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Northcross last Friday night. Twenty-three students were present and twelve states were represented.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing games, after which a short business session when officers were elected.

They are as follows: Maurice Guyer, president; Mark Martin, vice-president; Amelia Martin, secretary.

Following the election of the officers, refreshments were served. Mrs. Northcross acted as hostess.

Formal nomination of the candidates for student body officers will be heard in the college assembly today at 1:00 o'clock.

The board of control announced yesterday that any petition handed in before the beginning of the program today will be honored. Since there are some offices for which only one nomination has been made, many petitions are expected even at this late hour.

Three petitions for student body president have been circulated and signed. Those nominated are John Fitz, Lawrence Minge, and J. Eugene Walker.

Fitz seems at this time the most logical candidate, having taken part in many college activities since his entrance. Fitz is at present debate commissioner.

Lawrence Minge, the president of the Bachelor's club, is another popular candidate. His only drawback is the fact that this is his third year in junior college.

J. Eugene Walker is probably best known as a debater. Walker at present is the writer of the Commenter.

Those nominated for the office of vice president are John Drew, athletic commissioner of the closing semester and Spencer Stewart.

Bachelors to Edit One Edition of Don

Stop and look for the Bachelor edition of the Don January 25! The Don staff has given the Brotherhood of Bachelors full swing of the college paper for one week.

Mystery, surprise, and perhaps romance encircle the contents of the special edition. Even the regular Don staff is being kept in the dark concerning the make up of the paper.

The Bachelors promise lots of laughs, howls and screams. Articles are to be written by members of the club and will be newsy as well as humorous.

U. of C. English Head To Speak in Assembly

Professor Frederick Blanchard, head of the English department at the University of California at Los Angeles, is scheduled to speak in assembly to be held in College Hall today at 1 o'clock.

It is interesting to note that Professor Blanchard wrote a biography of the noted eighteenth century English novelist, Henry Fielding. English critics have acclaimed this biography as the best one of Henry Fielding.

Editorial Comment

One of the ablest, most active and best-liked student on the campus is to be nominated for student body president at this afternoon's assembly. We do not hesitate to set forth his many and varied capabilities.

John Allen Fitz is known and respected by every student in college. He has proven his courage, his ideals, and his clean manliness and strength in every phase of college life. Winning his letter in football, managing an exceptionally brilliant debating season, forming a pep club and leading the French club, and taking an intense interest in dramatics, he never once lowered his standards or his ideals. An early manhood has given him keen judgment and a sure maturity.

A real leader is now needed to determine whether Santa Ana college is to continue its advancement toward becoming a thoroughly wide-awake and progressive institution. Ability to realize a need, courage to undertake a change, and strength of purpose to accomplish it are quite necessary requisites in a student president.

Fitz is the only man in college who has proven himself to hold these attributes. The real need for him will undoubtedly make him the choice of the students.

THE DON HEARTILY SUPPORTS THE NOMINATION OF JOHN ALLEN FITZ.

Worst Edition

The worst edition of the Don was largely the result of rioting imaginations, and considered subjects contrary to fact. Its literary merit was based on the subtle humor of slams, nonsense, and sensationalism.

Of course such an issue had a definite purpose. The eloquent exaggeration of its articles was not entirely without thought. Assisting in the development of a college funny-bone, creating a sense of good sportsmanship and Scotch fellowship (Note: "The Scotch are the only nation humorous enough to enjoy a joke on themselves"), to add a little spicey reading to the campus pep—these were the direct and clean the main idea of El Toro. The spirit was the direct and clean, the intention without personal malice; we hope it was enjoyed as such.

DATE-BOOK DONNA

Tuesday, January 3—

Dear diary, back to school again and I was thrilled to the point of trembling when I saw a handsome, six foot blond. A new man—a new conquest. Of course, I had to meet that dim-bulb Charlie, and he was all hot and bothered by the neglect on my part of not wearing his frat pin. Had a new date for the show, and proved delightful evening. All he did was buy me a box of candy.

Wednesday, January 4—

Late again! Tried to slip into class without being noticed, but the fates were against me. This incident made me so mad I could have chewed jelly beans for the rest of the day, because later I discovered the handsome blonde in class, and if I had known, a more effective entrance would have been staged. Cut a class and stood in the hall for an hour talking to Jack and Bob, hoping the blond would come by, but didn't even get glimpse of him. All dismayed by the fact I didn't have a date, but was soon relieved when invited to go on a party—maybe the blond will be there.

January 5—

Dear diary, I am so happy! I feel no longer doomed. While I was sitting in Ray's car talking to him who should come up but the blond. Oh, diary, it actually made me weak. Ray introduced me and we all talked and, oh, such eyes. But the best is yet to come. Later, he asked me if he could take me home from school and it took us fully two hours.

Friday, January 6—

Oh, I'm in a whoop-de-doodle. I have a date with "him" tonight. Love is grand, even if you don't know his name! What a perfect day, nothing to mar it except that I don't know what to wear tonight. Well, I have to look over my wardrobe.

A new man—a new conquest.

O. K. M. N. X.

Did you ever hear a conversation like this, or are you not following the latest collegiate slang? It's the hoot owl's pajamas, and how!

Frosh: "You can't kid me, he'd make a hot S. B. president!"

Soph: "Razzberry; he's a D. A. R.! Come out of the fog, youth."

Frosh: "Why bring that up? What if his type is dim bulbs? He's joke for crust and ought to be a snake in office. Get off the dime, boy friend."

Soph: "Camouflage, freshman, you're all wet, and I don't mean maybe! The last mean pep brawl burned him up—all his jokes were haywire. He president? Like nobody's business!"

Frosh: "Get organized, sofa shiek, and sprinkle the dirt. I'm so impressed that I'll pass out of the picture. Accept this wise crack, but act your age—he's just the type for election and I don't mean Moss Beach!"

Soph: "Imagine my embarrassment! But O. K. M. N. X. we won't chew any more. Suppose you get your current squaw and we'll take a buzz in the crate this p. m. All set?"

Frosh: "Bite your whiskers, night man, 'We' for a back seat al la mode!"

And that's that.

All Wet

"Gosh, I'm all wet." "Oh, my neck!" "My back!" "My hands are almost frozen." Such exclamations as these were heard at the snow slide in Ice House Canyon.

Even our staid student body president complained of the seat of his trousers being too damp and cold, and most everyone joined in the chorus.

Mr. Glenn and Katy Best tied for first honors in the tumbling contest held on the snow slide.

Faculty members almost outdid the students in the snow battle. We wonder where Mr. Glenn learned his perfect marksmanship.

Eddie nearly had his school gi complexion rubbed off with snow by the mob in one battle.

Those who were on the trip dashed into the movies in more ways than one. Moving pictures were taken of the different groups descending, upright or otherwise, the mountain snow slide.

Everyone ate where he chose and then wandered around talking to everyone else. Moving pictures were also taken of the crowd eating. When this masterpiece is released those who did not attend will be able to cast their green eyes upon the faux pas made in eating.

Library or Gym

Standing on the campus

Balanced on the brim—
On the right the library,
On the left the gym.

Physical or mental,
Better brain or limb?
Perspiration? Concentration?
Library or gym.
Well, I'll have to choose one—
Chant me, choir, a hymn.
Don't be silly, library,
I'm going to the gym.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Bill Luck to Betty Finch as she stepped off the train: "Well, Betty, can you still see out of both eyes or are you blind in one?"

Betty: "No, dear, my eyesight is in perfect condition."

Bill: "Oh well, then his liquor was good."

Hazel Smith: "Charlie, when can we practice?"

Charlie Haas: "Practice! Why I can't teach you anything."

Faris Edgar cannot be convinced as to what direction the moon travels. He is now planning to spend an evening observing its movements closely.

Jack Clark, Jack Casey and Jack Taylor, the Spanish sharks, were fast asleep in class when Miss Swass woke by saying: "We'll take time out now."

It's a deep dark secret as to where John Clark spent New Year's eve, but he admits he wasn't completely out.

Just a Suggestion!

Were it not contrary to the Don's policy to offer advice to the professors, Mr. Nealley might be advised to revise the questions in his questionnaires. For instance, he might ask "Are you behind in your outside reading?" instead of "Are you up in your outside reading?" The theory is that answering "no" too many times might wear out the synapatic pathways in the cortex of students brains.

Eber Flauss reports that part of his vacation was spoiled by visits to the dentist's office. He had a tooth pulled and work done on several others.

Floyd Morten (Beginning French: "Miss Watson, start me off."

Miss Watson: "Why, haven't you a self starter?"

Roy Griset believes that since it is leap year, it is much safer to take his mother to the show than any of these college women who have been rushing him.

Professor Mustol recently received a check for $773.96 from the publisher of his overture "The Land of the Missions." That was just one year's royalty on the one composition. He says he may blossom out in a new Ford yet.

These Athletes!

Noel Wilson hates himself so much that he is crabbing because his football picture shows his face instead of his uniform.

The joke was on the barber. He failed to see Mr. Stewart's misplaced eyebrow and shaved it off. So far there have been no casualties in the riots begun by discussions as to whether or not the professor's appearance is improved.

Things looked like old times last Wednesday because Teddy Mueller had Milton Chaffee escorting her around the campus again.

Several last year's students were seen in the halls last week. Among those home from college that visited here were Rebecca Budrow, Betty Hoy, Lois Winslow, Evelyn Metzgar, Elaine Smith, Muriel Smith, and James Greeley.

Twins bring down house

Did you ever hear of anyone bringing down the house with a simple trigonometry recitation? That is the way the Bulpitt twins, Ruth and Naomi, celebrated their return to school after the holidays.

During the class period a large piece of plaster was loosened from the ceiling in room 209 and fell on the twins. They said they did not feel hurt; so the only damage done was the making of more work for the janitors.

FACULTY FROLICS

T. H. Glenn says he had a "mighty fine time" during vacation. He spent two days with Mr. Phillips at his cottage and hated to leave. "Of course, I had several good turkey dinners too," further remarked Mr. Glenn. However, his vacation was not all sugar. He corrected five sets of exam papers as well as read ten books, and then he says he didn't get everything done he wanted to do.

Miss Diana Anderson spent her Christmas vacation in Berkeley where she attended the meetings of the Western Society of Directors of Physical Education for women in colleges and universities. While in Berkeley she visited Chinatown. "Besides that," stated Miss Anderson, "I just played around with my friends."

George B. Holmes spent his vacation in making a survey of occupations of the high school students. On Christmas day, Mr. Holmes worked harder than any other day—he ate turkey, he said.

Miss Frances Lapum spent the Christmas holidays in San Francisco with relatives. She says it wasn't so "wet" up north as it was in Santa Ana.

C. C. Stewart did only one thing during vacation of any importance. He shaved off his mustache.

Miss Mary Swass spent her Christmas vacation on a ranch near Stockton.

Tessmann Honored In Book of Science

"Though a man live in a wilderness, if he make even a better mouse trap than his neighbor, the world will find a beaten pathway to his door." Such is a quotation commonly attributed to Emerson, and in it we find a statement of truth.

Mrs. John Tessmann, formerly Miss Jennie Lasby, a member of the Santa Ana junior college faculty, has won an unusual honor. During the recent holiday season Mrs. Tessmann received a noted volume "American Men of Science", which informed her that she was included among the prominent Americans with whom the volume deals. Her research and work in astronomy have gained her this honor which is shared only by a few more.

The volume is issued by the American Scientific Association, edited by Professor J. McKeen Cattell of Columbia university. It forms a biographical directory which is issued every five years. The present publication is the fourth, and Mrs. Tessman has had the honor of being included in the last two. In the preface of the book, it is definitely stated that the publication includes all those whose contributions to pure science have been noteworthy events of the interval since the latest previous publication.

The biography of Mrs. Tessmann given in the volume and taken from the Register states that she received her A. B. degree at Carlton college in 1904 and her Master's degree at Mt. Holyoke in 1906. She was stationed at Mt. Wilson observatory from 1906 to 1914 and at Goodsell observatory from 1916 to 1918. Her research work in solar rotation, radial velocity, and asteroid positions has been especially commended.

The friends and students of the popular and respected instructor are delighted with the compliment paid her by the inclusion of her name in the roster of the nation's most distinguished scientists. Once again the world has found a beaten pathway to the door of merit.

Students from within California include Harry Weaverling, San Francisco; Dwain Tarbet, Inglewood; Lora Bean, Burbank; Zelma Frost, Wasco; Owen Peters, Huntington Beach; Dorothy Benon, Bakersfield; Edwin Straus, Newport Beach; Mark and Amelia Martin, Artesia; Ione Hanson, Oak Glenn; Melvin Harter, Los Angeles.

Famous Lecturers Heard at Asilomar

By William S. Burt

A program of lectures and discussions proved very interesting and educational to the Y. M. C. A. delegates who attended Asilomar this year. Many of the most broadminded making the conference of utmost benefit to the students.

J. Stitt Wilson, who last year delighted S. A. collegians, made several addresses of characteristic worth.

Kirby Page, who is soon to visit Santa Ana, and who is recognized as one of the leaders in the world peace movement, also lectured several times.

Dr. Ryland, secretary of the Los Angeles church Federation, spoke on "How to make religion more effective."

The camp was divided into Forum groups, each group taking as its subject one of the above problems, and developing it throughout the entire week. The most popular of these groups were the ones on sex and home, led by Dr. Kirk, of Pomona.

When Sunday came, and the time for parting arrived, men from all Hawaii, Mexico, and many other countries, shook each other's hand, hoping that never would they be on opposite sides of a battle line.

Spanish Club Will Hold Meet Tonite

Hot tamales, enchiladas, frijoles, and hot coffee will be served to the Santa Ana college senioritas and seniors when they meet at 8 o'clock to-night, January 11, at James' cafe.

Anyone who has had one year of college Spanish or two years of high school Spanish is eligible for membership and is cordially invited to join the El Cervantes Club.

The business meeting will be held after the dinner and election of officers for the second semester will take place.

According to Kathryn Jessup, who is in charge of the program, New Years resolutions will be made in Spanish, after which the entire party will join in the singing of Spanish songs.

Press Club Will Meet Tomorrow

A Press club party will be held at the home of Catherine Best, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It will not be necessary to urge members to attend when it is learned that entertaining stunts and party features will be provided.

Election of officers for the second semester will be the main event of the business meeting.

Don Cagers Defeat Crack Weight Team

In a fast and furious contest the Don basketball team took the Traveling Bear Cubs to the proverbial cleaners for a win of 30 to 24. The 145 pound California hopes and fears played brilliant ball but the Don machine swept on and over them. The brilliant playing of Faris Edgar at forward accounted for many of the points. He totaled 20 points himself, thereby making himself the leading point getter of the team to date.

From the opening whistle to the final blast the game was packed full of thrills and the spectators went home gasping for breath. It was one of those games that was so fast that many of the fans were completely bewildered. The Dons led the Bear Cubs almost from the start and only in the last quarter when the visitors staged a final futile attempt to win was the Dons lead in danger.

The aggressiveness and team work of the Dons is greatly improved and hopes are running high for a championship team.

In the preliminary the Santa Ana Class C team defeated the Huntington Beach Cees by a score of 21 to 5.

Lineup for the Don-Bear Cub game:

Santa Ana (30)	Calif. (24)
Edgar (20) F	(2) Stark
Youel (1) F	(5) Burnett
Cook (6) C	(3) Weber
Allee G	(4) Miner
White G	(2) Paynter

Substitutions: Santa Ana—Kolkhurst for Youel; Settle for Kolkhurst; Hogue (2) for Cook; Beatty for White; Hafer for Beatty; Snow for Allee; Stewart (1) for Snow; California—Tehmkui (6) for Burnett; Huggill for Weber; Philiber (2) for Paynter.

Hockey Practice To Start Next Week

Hockey, one of the most popular of women's athletics, will open on the Don campus, January 16, 1928.

All women are asked to cooperate with the W. A. A. and participate in this activity, as a large turnout is needed to culminate in a successful hockey season.

Each team requires eleven members. Anyone interested, whether or not she has any knowledge of the sport, is urged by the women coaches to join in the fun.

If enough sophomores and freshmen will play, interclass games may be listed on the schedule.

Faris Edgar, along with several others remarked that he wouldn't be seen at Baldy Saturday because of the basketball game that night. Here is one faithful of the team who is going to rest up and help put the college on the map.

Santa Claus was evidently good to Ray Lindman and brought him a pair of glasses. He looks a little wiser and more studious now.

Play Day Teams To Go To Pasadena Meet

The women's athletic teams will leave here at 8:45 o'clock Saturday morning for Pasadena, where they will participate in the inter-collegiate women's day program.

Captains from the different colleges will draw for their opponents. First teams will play first teams and second will oppose second. The volley ball and basketball games will be played at 10 o'clock.

A fifty cent luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock; and the business meeting is called for 2 p. m.

Our teams are entering these contests with the spirit of play, but, as we wish to have a little knowledge of the game to increase its interest, both basketball and volleyball practice is called for Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. All girls are expected to be out.

Those chosen to make up the basketball teams are Dorothy Clarkson, Charlotte Brown, Ruby Gray, Rowena Newcomb, Marian Gardner and Dorothy Henk, of the Brownie's team; and Charlotte Harnois, Dorothy Vincent, Jane Stewart, Margaret Glenn, Julie Bingham, and Janet Wilson, of the Charlie Horse's team.

Coach Anderson Attends Conference

Miss Diana Anderson, physical education instructor, attended the meeting of the Western society of directors of physical education for women in colleges and universities which met at the University of California at Berkeley during vacation.

According to Miss Anderson, thirty-seven percent of the junior college students attending Stanford have earned honors in activities, while only fourteen per cent of those going directly to Stanford from high school have earned honors. Stanford is very much in favor of junior colleges, she says.

Sophs Beat Frosh

Nosing out the freshman aggregation in the last few minutes of play, "Squeak" Squires and some ten other sophomores covered themselves with glory in the preliminary game last night. The frosh led the sophomores around by the nose until the very last when the upperclassmen staged a rally and garnered the extra point for victory. The final score was 8 to 7.

The teams were composed of non-professional cagers from the two classes and the game was in accordance to the ancient custom of an interclass clash on the court.

"Squeak" Squires collected seven of the eight points scored for the sophs, thereby making himself high point man in the game.

Frosh	Sophs
White F	McMillen
Watson F	Ewert
Smiley C	Harter
Borden G	Squires
Guyer G	Parks

Dentists Beat Dons Final Score is 35-26

Unable to get started and show the speed they showed against the Bear Cubs the Dons were defeated last night by the U. S. C. Dental college team. The final score was 26 to 25. The Don team seemed to fight hard enough but the visiting team proved too much for them. Edgar seemed to be off form but nevertheless played a good game.

The first quarter was more or less even but in the second the Dentists took a good lead. Score at end of period, 21 to 5 favor of U. S. C. Dentists.

In the second half numerous substitutions were made in the Don team but they were unable to stem the tide.

Following is the lineup:

Dentists	Dons
Markman F	Allee
Grant F	Youel
Arnevech C	Weaverling
Arnevech G	Settle
Marcus G	Snow

Substitutions: U. S. C.—Rugger, Telansky. Santa Ana—Edgar, Kalkhurst, Hogue, Cook, Stewart, White.

The play "Little Women" to be presented by the San Bernardino junior college will run two nights at the Sturgis high auditorium on January 19 and 20. Visitors from outside colleges are particularly welcome, and reservations will be given special attention if phoned or written to the San Bernardino junior college.

A novel event to be held on the new San Bernardino track will be the Whippet races scheduled for January 14. Some of the fastest dogs in the country will be entered, including several which are owned by prominent motion picture stars. The speedy dogs will be run against experienced one hundred yard men who will sprint half as far as the Whippets. There are about twenty-five canine entrants in all.

Ushering the leap year in with enthusiasm, the girls of the San Bernardino college have planned a tea dansant for the boys of the school.

Compton, January 9, (A. N. S.)—The Compton J. C. casaba tossers swing into action against Fullerton, Saturday, January 14. The locals are dark horses of the conference as this is their first year in the league. Nothing can be said as to how they stack up against other teams.

Volley Ball Teams To Be Formed Soon

The girls volleyball team has not yet been chosen. According to Mrs. Foote, several teams will be chosen from the regular gym class and those who have signed up for volley ball.

Class practice in volleyball began two weeks before vacation. There will be only one week in which to practice before the annual junior college play day held on January 14, at Pasadena. Mrs. Foote hopes to have two good teams in shape by then.

There will be only two regular practices of the chosen teams before play day.

of women's athletics and president of the W. A. A.

The only candidate for the office of treasurer is James Sullivan. Sullivan has been suggested and recommended by the commercial department.

It is expected that plans for the election will be announced at the assembly.

Compton, January 9 (A. N. S.)—A new gymnasium, with a seating capacity of 1,400, has just been completed, and is at the disposal of the Compton Jaysee. The new gym is fifty feet wide, and ninety feet long, and has one of the best floors in Southern California.
